

Architectural Photography Record

Spire U3A Group
3rd August 2018

Architectural Photography Record

For this topic I define Record Architectural Photography as photographs taken square on to the subject with no attempt at pictorialism.

The image should convey information about the building but only from one view. Other views at right angles would reveal more information.

In practice these two views and maybe others too can be place or arranged on one sheet.

Architectural Photography Record

The following pages show some of my Record Shots

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Architectural Photography Record

Note the difference between these 2 shots of the same wall.

The glancing sunlight really shows up the textures

Architectural Photography Record

I hope these images convey my meaning to you.

Architectural Photography Record

The End